The Law of Libel.

The following is the full text of an act adopted at the last meeting of the Kentucky Press Association and ordered to be presented to the Legislature with the request that it be made a law:

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Sec. 1. That in actions of libel there shall be no presumption of either express, actual or legal notice from the mere fact of the publication of the libel, and the burden of proof on the question of malice shall be on the plaintiff.

Sec. 2. In actions for libel, if there is no proof of express malice, or the court or jury shall find that there was no such malice, then no exemplary or punitive damages shall be awarded; nor shall any general damages be awarded that are not strictly actual and real.

Sec. 3. No action for libel shall be brought or maintained unless the plaintiff shall, before bringing the suit, request the defendant to publish a retraction of the libel and allow to the defendant a reasonable time in which to publish such retraction and to make such amends as are reasonable and possible under the circumstances of the case, and proof of the publication of any such retraction or correction shall be admissible in evidence under the general issue on the question of the good faith of the defendant, and in mitigation and reduction of damages. Proof of the failure or neglect of the plaintiff to comply with the provisions of this section may be given in evidence under the general issue in bar of the action.

Sec. 4. It shall not be lawful for any attorney at law to bring or conduct any action of libel for a contingent fee, or on any understanding, express or implied, that he is to receive any portion, or all of the damages recovered, as compensation for his services; nor shall any attorney at law advance any money or to incur any liability for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the plaintiff in any such action.

Sec. 5. That all suits for libel against newspapers published in this Commonwealth shall be brought in the county in which said newspaper shall be published.

Sec. 6. That this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

The Speaker has treated the Kentuckians—especially the democrats—just like the fighting cocks they are, in his committee assignment. Mr. Cadle heads the democrats on the Ways and Means Committee, thus officially receiving his appointment as leader of the minority, though he was informally assigned to that station the very first day of the session; Mr. Breckinridge is on the Appropriation Committee, which confirms him as lieutenant of the leader. The same may be said of Mr. McCreary's assignment as head of the minority of the Committee on Foreign Relations. Mr. Stone heads the minority on War Claims, Mr. Montgomery is on Postoffices and Railroads, Mr. Goodnight on Invalid Pensions, as is Mr. Wilson also. Mr. Garth retains his place on Education. Mr. Ellis is on the District Committee, a most important position. Mr. Poynter is on the Committee of Revision of the Laws, so is Mr. Finley, who, by all considerations of courtesy, should have been the chairman, as he was the senior member of that committee of the last Congress who was re-elected.—Times.

During the racing season of 1889 Powers got won the enormous sum of $172,897, Prince Charlie's $169,546 and Longfellow's $140,015. The biggest winner was Chaos, by Rayon d'Or, he capturing $63,500 in stakes and purses.

A citizen of Hawkinsville, Ga., who was suffering from asthma, was advised to try a remedy sometimes used by the negroes. He got a hornet's nest, boiled it, made a tea, drank the tea and was completely cured.

A Good Cough Syrup.

There is nothing parents should be so careful about as selecting a cough syrup. Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup costs no more than the cheap and inferior nostrums thrown on the market. The best none too good, be sure and get BEGGS' CHERRY COUGH SYRUP. We keep it on hand at all times. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could only live a short time. She weighed less than 70 pounds. On a piece of wrapper paper she read of Mr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a full bottle and took it home, bought another and grew stronger fast, continued to gain weight. Now strong healthy, rosy plump, weighing 120 pounds. For further particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, druggist, Fort Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful Discovery tree at A. R. Penny's Drugstore.

DRUNKENNESS—THE LIQUOR HABIT—In all the World there is but one cure, Dr. Hayes' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it, effecting a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been cured who have taken the Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. No harmful effects result from its administration. Cures guaranteed. Send for circular and full particulars. Address in confidence GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race Street, Cincinnati, O.

COL. JOHN M. COWAN DEAD.

God Is Love and Nothing Else. Praise the Lord.

SANFORD, LEE CO., KENTUCKY, DEC. 18, 1889.

DEAR INTERIOR:—Our brother, John M. Cowan, died this afternoon, about 2 o'clock. He passed away without a struggle, like a weary child falling, peacefully, asleep.

It was conceivable to the last and just before he died said: "Praise the Lord for all His goodness and mercy to us all." His very last words were: "I am afraid I am detaining you all from your work" —thinking of others more than of himself. An appropriate and characteristic ending of a true and tender life. He died in full assurance of the blessed life beyond.

Our hearts are heavy and sad," but we praise the Lord that his dreary sufferings are over and his rest in Jesus begins. We bury him to-morrow in a beautiful spot, whence, the sun rising from the water and setting in it—morning and evening—can be seen. In front, the boundless expanse of Mexico's Gulf.

His brother Frank—next to him in age of the five Cowan brothers—lies outside Vera Cruz, at the western extremity of this great sheet of water. John lies on the eastern verge.

His body will "return to dust" near the spot where Marie is to erect her church, and from its open windows, it will not be difficult to imagine, lie will hear the music of voice and organ he loved so much to listen to in earthly life.

We feel as if this link with the other world had made Samuel doubly a "homestead" to us all. Where we bury our dead is ever "holy ground."

Near a beautiful cluster of palms; between two "sea grape" trees; under a bank of snow-white shells, we lay our loved one down, "to gather strength and beauty for the coming of the Lord."

Ever in Jesus, GEO. O. BARNES.

A Graded School.

(To the Editor of the Interior Journal.)

Please allow us space in your paper (the friend to popular education) to send Christmas greeting to the friends and patrons of the public school. The present session, now only four months taught, has been, we think, not only the most pleasant to teachers, but the most profitable to pupils of any we have had the pleasure of conducting. Some of the reasons are the separation of the primary and the advanced pupils, thereby giving more time to each department without a conflict one with the other. The regularity with which most parents have sent their children. While our discipline has not been so rigid as to destroy the pleasure of school life to the pupil, yet it is of a most positive character, thereby making it both profitable to instructors and those under our charge.

The recitations as a rule have been more thorough and practicable than is usually the case with us in a school not altogether perfectly graded. And that reminds us that it is within the range of possibilities of the citizens of Dist. No. 1 to make this a graded free school, thereby saving at least 50 per cent. of the expenses in educating our boys and girls. Also the immediate oversight of our children could be had, which all parents will agree is very essential to the moulding of character that is to fit them for future usefulness. We believe that Kentucky is not destined to remain long behind her sister States of the North or West in regard to public schools. Then why not begin at Stanford and make our public school as good as any in the land. We have the situation, we have the water, the principal part of the building necessary, healthy location, plenty of money, children with cranberries chuck full of natural capacity and many other advantages not found in other places where we are inclined to send our boys and girls, and that too away from home. So parents, think the matter over carefully and do for your sons and daughters that which seemeth best to pave the way to their future usefulness and possibly future greatness, thus leaving a heritage more priceless than Golconda's most valuable gems.

A happy Christmas to both parents and children. We are most respectively,

W. F. MCCLARY, Prin.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Bastin & Collier have moved their saw mill to a point two miles nearer town.

—Eliza Hansford, an old colored "mammy," well-known about town, died Saturday.

—Mr. Line Wells has rented the Rose property in the Cedar Creek locality and moved thereto.

—Will Curtis hung up an additional stocking Christmas eve night for the fine boy which came to his home a day or two ago.

—Miss Hattie Collier gave a pleasant social party at her country home Wednesday night, which was attended by quite a coterie of beauties and belles. They report a gay time.

—A huge blaze south of town Christmas eve night caused a tremor of alarm, as it was thought to be Mr. Mack Holmes' residence, but it proved to be only some hay stacks near by, which doubtless caught from some itinerant mirth-making orchards, who started home with a surplus of Roman candles.

—An exultant pair of lovers from the Preachersville vicinity, whose names we were unable to learn, but who had doubtless outwitted the old folks by some skillful ruse, caught No. 25 here Sunday night and sped away to their matrimonial haven, Jellico, where ere this they are one till death do them part.

—Instead of a tree, snow-house greeted the anxious beholder at the Christian church Christmas eve night, which was somewhat a novelty to all. The pews and aisles were literally packed with merry children and smiling grown people. Old Santa, admirably impersonated by Dr. Zeller, with his snowy beard and bear-skin wallet, came down the chimney, tickling the little ones almost out of their wits. Under his supervision the presents, which were many and varied, were distributed and everybody went away delighted. One fellow, we noticed, got a shining 44 Colt's. Prof. John Anderson was the recipient of a dollar about the size of the Colossus of Rhodes. Two gallants received a huge onion apiece, to "water their grief," as Bill Shakespeare says. And Pete Chandler, they do say, got a cradle. The Corner Band was out in force and discontinued some exquisite music.

—Mr. and Mrs. George McInerry, who were married last week, left Thursday for Texas, taking with them their household goods and the benediction of a host of friends. J. W. Brooks is spending Christmas with the home folks. Miss Nattie Collier is back from a pleasant visit to friends at Maywood. Evan Petrus, of Somerset, is the guest of Willie and Henry Petrus on Springs avenue. Miss Leah Stegar, of Georgetown Female College, who is developing into a beauty of the attractive Spanish type, is at home for the holidays with her mother and grandmother. J. A. Newland and wife have returned from a brief visit to the city. James White, ex-sheriff of Rockcastle, was here Saturday. Miss Leila Williams, of Mt. Vernon, and Miss Mary Davis Duddaray, of Stanford, two pretty little brunettes, accompanied by Messrs. Hite and Banks, were the guests of Miss Lettie Dillon Sunday. Handsome Henry Miller, en route home to Lewisburg, stopped over here Sunday to see his friends. Mrs. J. H. Collier, Mrs. Samuel Higgins, who was Miss Judith King, and Miss Bettie Higgins, of Somerset, are here to spend Christmas week. Mr. Carol Plummer, after a year's stay in Louisville, is with the old folks once more. Mr. Jas. Tate, of Lexington, is visiting his cousin, Mr. Sam Tate. Col. Ben Benn, of Knoxville, is here to see his friend assume the role of a Benedict. That popular gentleman, Dr. W. B. Armentd, accompanied by his brother, Mr. Albert Armentd, are up from Owensboro to be royally entertained by their many friends. Mrs. Craft, of London, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Dr. Blair. Miss Kate Curtis is spending the holidays in Somerset. Johnny Edmiston and sister, little Miss Hallie, are with their father, Mr. D. B. Edmiston. Miss Maud Pope and brother, of Danville, are visiting at Mr. J. H. Hutchings'. Miss Birdie Stephenson, a handsome young lady of Hanover, Indiana, is spending the holidays with her aunt, Mrs. Judge W. O. Hansford. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Collier arrived from Huntsville, Ala., Tuesday night, to spend the festive season in old C. O. Misses Addie and Rhoda Harlan, two of Danville's fairest, are the guests of Miss Bettie Higgins. Mr. and Mrs. John A. Haldean are here to attend the Davis Buchanan nuptials, which occur today, Wednesday. Messrs. Joe and Bill Brooks are at home from the Falls City. Miss Nannie Keenedy, is with her sister, Mrs. M. C. Williams, at Mt. Vernon. Victor Owens, of Mt. Vernon, is down to see his mother, Mrs. Addie Herron. "Vic" has gotten to be quite a man since we saw him last.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—A duller and a sadder Christmas was never seen in Lancaster.

—John H. Woodcock died at the rooms of his devoted friend, W. S. Miller at 6:15 o'clock Tuesday evening, Dec. 24, in the 38th year of his age, having been born in Somersett, March 31st, 1851. The announcement of a death is always sad, it matters not whether in high or low degree.

The presence of the dread angel makes itself felt alike in the hovel of the poor and the palace of the rich. Ordinarily men lost like a stone thrown into the water, for a moment there is an eddy, a brief whirl and then the stream flows smoothly and silently on. John Woodcock was one of nature's noblemen. He had strong convictions, which he did not hesitate to express, but he never, knowingly, hurt the feelings of a friend. He enjoyed life and was always genial, whole-souled and ready to give pleasure to others. His deeds of charity to the poor and needy, his exemplary mode of life and his intensely sympathetic nature will rear for him a lasting monument in the hearts of all who know him. His soul went out to the God who gave it on the eve of that day that nearly 1900 years ago ushered the Christ child into the world. His devotion to Brother Barnes was remarkable and he believed and carried out in his daily walk in life the truism that "God is Love and Nothing Else."

He was fond of children and one of his greatest pleasures was to join with them in the celebration of Christmas.

The town has on now a badge of mourning and not a sound of festivities disturb his peaceful sleep. This gala time has changed to one of sadness and whispering voices speak to each other the sad tidings in mournful accents. He was a director of the National Bank and that building is draped in a garb of sombre hue in honor of his memory. His death was without a struggle, surrounded by his family and friends. He never faltered in the belief that he would get well, but just as the curtains of night drew down upon the joyful world, his soul took its flight as calmly and as serenely as a babe slumbering at its mother's breast and his spirit went out like a river flowing on without a ripple, without a murmur to the waveless ocean of eternal peace. His was a life of beauty and friendly devotion. But our friends, too, must die and with them the recollection of ourselves. Thus passeth away the glory of this world. We must all admit that it is a strange God who removes from our midst such examples. This man who wore the garb of Christianity not only in the church, or on the Sabbath, but in his every day walks of life should have been left as a guiding star, that parents might with consideration point to and say to their children "go thither and do likewise." But the cord is severed and we can only sigh and ask, who will be the next to be borne hither with the icy shroud of death wrapt around him? No one answers; can anyone say it will not be himself? Then is there need of preparation by all? Brother, our tombs are prepared, our end draws near; it cannot be far distant. Again then, in the voice of friendship, let us be "Ready for the first sound." How oft we have listened to the kind words of Christian counseling of this good man and while we do not profess to have followed his kindly teachings, we do claim to be much benefited by his pure associations and pray that his angel spirit may continue to lead us deeper into the paths of righteousness and peace and fit us for association with him in eternity. The burial will take place at Somersett on Thursday afternoon, after funeral services conducted by Dr. T. H. Cleland at the Christian church of that place. The "Boone Club," of Lancaster, of which he was an honored and devoted member, will act as pall bearers and his remains will be followed to their last resting place by many of his Lancaster friends, whom he was so much attached to, as to leave family and kindred and pleasantly abide with until the summons came for him to join the angel band. Uncontrollable sorrow forbids any further news items from us this week.

—The burial will approach success when Lemox, the lone band, has a vision of his future career, seeing himself at the end a raving maniac, destitute of both friends and fortune. From this horrid nightmare he wakes to find himself still surrounded by wife and child and his fortune still intact. The conclusion is patent; he immediately breaks with the adventurous and resolves neither to see her nor her associate again and the curtain drops on a reunited family circle, happy in their mutual love.—New York Dispatch.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For County Judge, THOMAS W. VARNON;
County Attorney, JOSEPH B. PAXTON;
County Clerk, GEORGE B. COOPER;
Sheriff, J. N. MENEFFEE;
Jailer, SAMUEL M. OWENS;
Assessor, E. D. KENNEDY;
Sup't of Common Schools, W. F. MCCLARY;
Surveyor, HARRY A. EVANS;
Coroner, ARCH CARSON.

The death of Henry W. Grady, the gifted editor and orator, is a serious blow to the South, of which he was so fond a lover and so gallant a defender. As editor of the Atlanta Constitution he wielded a vast influence and his utterances as an orator invariably commanded universal attention and respect. At a banquet given by the New England Society two years ago he delivered a speech of eloquence and an earnest appeal for brotherly love and intercourse between the sections. His last public appearance was in Boston recently, when he spoke on the race problem, with his usual broadness of views and statesmanship. He contracted pneumonia on the trip and died a few days after his return in the full flush of a noble career. The South, and indeed the whole country, mourns over his untimely death.

On our first page will be found the full text of an act entitled the Law of Libel, which was adopted at the last meeting of the Kentucky Press Association and ordered to be presented to the Legislature, with the request that it be made the law. A committee will see that it is presented, but every newspaper man in the State is interested in the matter and should make it a point to urge upon the member from his county to support the measure. Another committee was ordered to be appointed to secure the passage of a uniform advertising law and these are therefore to remind President E. Polk Johnson that if he has not already done so the naming of that committee is in order.

The Georgetown Times is 23 years old. It was started by its present owner and editor, Hon. John A. Bell, who has been in charge of it the entire time. The Times is a good paper and the fact that 300 or more of its subscribers have been with it from the start shows how much it is appreciated. In certain contingencies Bro. Bell promises a semi-weekly and says that the Times will blossom into a daily when the town has 10,000 inhabitants, which may occur in the near future, as it is rapidly becoming a place of importance.

It is with deep regret that we chronicle the death of John H. Woodcock, of Lancaster. A gentler, purer, lovelier spirit never inhabited human body, nor was man more beloved than he by all who knew him. Hundreds of friends unite with his grief stricken wife in genuine sorrow over her terrible loss. May she find consolation in looking to the God of Love and Nothing Else, in whom her faith was so steadfastly fixed. Col. W. S. Miller, a devoted friend, pays his memory a loving tribute in another column.

JUDGE FINLEY was pretty badly turned down by Speaker Reed, who does not measure the mountain statesman with the tape line that he uses for himself and which some of his admirers affect to use. He is much displeased with his committee assignments and says he will refuse them when Congress reconvenes next month. This is all gas, though. Finley ought to have sense enough to know that a man can be a hound of a fellow at Williamsburg and still be the little end of nothing at Washington.

COLLECTOR SCOTT, of the Louisville district, is not enjoying the holiday season to any great extent. Most of his bondsmen have asked to be released on the grounds that he is incompetent for the duties of the office and has no regard for a promise whatever. Scott says they are prevaricators and that he can get other bondsmen just as easy, but we shall see what we shall see.

The directors of the L. & N. Co. have presented the widow of Conductor Lemmon, who was murdered in discharge of his duty, with 20 shares of stock in the road, valued at over $2,000, made up by their individual contributions. Corporations may have no souls, but these gentlemen have demonstrated that they have.

SENATOR BECK seems to be losing his mind as well as his health. His gush over Senator Allison, of Iowa, whom he lauds to the skies, and says his State would disgrace itself by not returning him to the Senate, is especially senile when we consider how bitter and ultra are his protective ideas.

The Clarksville, Tenn., Progress outdid them all. It issued a 16-page, 7-column paper, teeming with advertisements and good things. Loving Gaines has evidently got a gold mine.

The dailies are loaded down as usual with accounts of killings, accidents and deaths. It is always so at this time of the year, when peace on earth, good will to men should prevail.

Under the head "Caught with a Kodak," our Gay Jim Givens is thus photographed in the Louisville Critic. "A face as broad as a barn door and a mind as deaf as one of his own natural gas wells. The kindest, gentlest, oiliest, most unsuspecting smile; had Bret Harte met sooner his immortal poem would have been addressed to "Ah Ah" instead of "Ah Sin." A laugh that befits his round body and that gurgles and reverberates like old wine reluctantly leaving a bottle. He has enough stock in hand, gas and mining companies to paper the expense of the eternal heavens, and if his holdings ever touch par the interest on them will pay the national debt. The personification of that latter-day genius a promoter—a cross between a boom and a plunger. He knows enough law to make a living out of it if his path was not strewn with better opportunities. There's a shrewdness behind his simple, plausible greeting that many a wiser man might envy."

At Pittsburg, Laurel county, Robert Miller was shot and killed by Robert Spears, Tuesday evening. The parties had been at odds for some time over the shooting of Will Miller in the arm at a church in that place some time since by Spears when attempting to arrest him for disturbing worship. Spears being town marshal at the time. They met at the depot on the above evening and both opened fire. Spears after emptying his pistol attempted to reach a store-house where he had a gun, when the marshal, Stringer, halted him. He did not stop until Stringer fired a ball through the calf of his leg. Miller was taken to London. Tom Evans, a bystander, received a ball through the ankle during flight.

Samuel Anglin was shot and dangerously wounded by James Townsend and William Adams Monday night near Brush Creek Station. Anglin received two wounds, one in the left wrist and one in the abdomen ranging downward. The wounded man says the parties came to his house and being refused admittance threatened his life. He stepped outside when they opened fire upon him. Townsend and Adams say they had all been drinking together during the day and in passing Anglin's house they stooped on the outside while Anglin went in. After a little time Anglin was heard smashing dishes, etc. Townsend, who is father-in-law of Anglin, went in to quiet and pacify him, when he got his gun and ran Townsend from the house, following him and Adams a short distance when the firing was opened with above result. Townsend was brought here Wednesday evening. Adams has not been arrested.

Do not suffer any Longer.

SEEKING INFORMATION.

He Wanted to Know How They Looked to Other People and Found Out.
"See that party over there?" said a very seedy tramp to a business man, as he pointed to a hard looking specimen of humanity across the street.

"I see that rocky looking chap over there," replied the business man.

"What is your best judgment of him from general appearances?"

"I should take him to be a very good man to fight shy of."

"Wouldn't make him to be a well to do, easy going business man?"

"I should say not."

"Don't strike you as a capitalist who has visited your town with a view to locating a large manufacturing establishment?"

"He strikes me as a bent."

"Think he isn't the representative of an English syndicate in search of a brewery?"

"I may be in search of a saloon."

"If you should see two men like him together would you suppose they had arrived in town to found a college or to invest their money in property on a speculation?"

"I should think they were a couple of dizzy hums who ought to be run in on general principles."

"Thank you very much. You see, the party over the way is my partner. We were curious to know just what sort of an impression we were making as we journeyed along, and I excused myself to run over and put to you a few questions. You have answered with directness and conciseness, and I will report progress. Good day." — New York World.

"No, man. It was in a horse-sop. I had to turn 'em off or steal the trap." — N.Y. Sun.

How He Lost Them.

Lady of the House. How did you lose those two fingers from your left hand, my poor man?

Tramp—"They were cut off, ma'am."

I suppose that was when you were working, and that their loss disabled you from further manual labor. Tell me, was it in a mill?"

"No, man. It was in a horse-sop. I had to turn 'em off or steal the trap." — N.Y. Sun.

"Want a shill, Boss?"

"I don't know. Do I need it?" — Life.

She Acknowledged Her Ignorance.

Mrs. Gullible—Do you know, deest John is just as boyish in his feelings as he ever was.

Mrs. Kawler—Indeed?

Mrs. Gullible—Yes; why. It was only last night I heard him talkin' in his sleep about seeing the elephant. The dear fellow has doubtless been to the circus.—Lawrence American.
